PROPOSALS
BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, for publishing by subscription, BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS TO THE
Declaration of Independence, ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES, which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.
TO THE PUBLIC.
seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of the men who have affixed their signatures to Declaration of Independence have been looked or disregarded. The eyes of usands have dwelt with rapture upon the moment that announced to the world that these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states; while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that immortal republic on the globe, have, with new splendid exceptions, gone to their rest, and it behoves a generous posterity, sensible of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the memory of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become. — Traits of individual character are fugitive and evan-escent; and if they are not snatched by the hand of the Biographic Muse, at an early season, from the cold grasp of death, will in partake of the oblivion of the body. is not the object of the present attempt, deal in that profusion of indiscriminate unparing panegyric, so often and so sely dignified with the name of Biography; we wish to represent the characters they were; they stand in need of no panegyric; and we earnestly solicit from the living relations and friends of those revolutionary patriots all the information that will tend to a development of character, on is the creature of circumstance, and wish to show the progress of those patrios from their first resistance of colonial oppression, until they stood forth the noble undaunted champions of their country's dependence. All this can only be done a familiar acquaintance with the lives of these men, and whoever of the surviving ends or relatives will furnish facts, and circumstances in their possession to unfold and illustrate their characters, shall be entitled to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is actuable, further to embellish the mediated work with correct likenesses of the objects of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For a purpose we again solicit the assistance their surviving relatives and friends. If they will transmit to the publisher any enaving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated with a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the declaration of Independence, from the first conception, and the prices of which are established, can at any time be viewed and purchased at the lowest limitation prices.

AT his office, next door below Crawwill exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms. All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms. Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a liberal discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U.

States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and West, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no competitors in the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like mosses on the right side of her face, which,
with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward. Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempt be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information, as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia,
mosses on the right side of her face, which,
with several letters on her left arm, were
made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow
and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward. Celia
certificate of her freedom, and description
of her person. Her mother, the subscriber,
is much afflicted by her manner of going a-
way, and desires that any humane people
that when she gets into a strange country,
where she will be unknown and out of the
sell her for a slave. Should any such attempt be made, fifty dollars reward will
be paid to any person who will communi-
conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

To the Public.
A unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence recently published, accompanied by the signatures of the illustrious patriots who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on those signatures, as if we were showered into the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—carnage and death in its most frightful forms appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated they paused; they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with five solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, separated as they now are from those patriots, by the intervention of the tomb, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, snatched by the pencil from the oblivion of the grave, and emulate the prominent traits of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of ac-knowledgeed merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, Esq., whose familiarity with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had to undergo, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patrage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He ventures to solicit the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence that will serve to illustrate the characters and to enrich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.
A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

tice and become responsible for its publication, shall receive one copy of the work.

work, which is well established, regularly

LAWRENCE, WILSON & Co.
December 13

Our young countryman, John Howard Payne, has produced a Tragedy, founded upon the story of Lucretia, called "Brutus or the fall of Tarquin," which has been several times represented upon the boards of the Drury Lane Theatre. It was performed the first time on the night of the 3d of Dec. last, was announced for repetition by Mr. Keane, and received, as the Evening Star mentions "in a manner the most flattering to the author's expectations." We extract a passage from the epilogue, delivered by the celebrated Mrs. Glover, daughter of Mr. Betterton, late of this theatre, because of its application as well to the fashions here as in England. Franklin Gaz. But, bless me! what two non-descripts together! That she—a pile of ribbons, straw, and feathers! Her back a pillow, all a hose, and on it a church bell? cradle? tower?—No faith—a bonnet! Aye, and an actual woman in it, able, Rouse but her tongue, to make that tower a Babel! Now for the he, the fellow non-descript—Whereas has that mockery of man been ship? Have Ross or Buchan brought him to combat the quidnuncs for the passage to the pole? While on her iceberg howls some Greenland squaw, Robb'd of her petty monster till next thaw! No, Paris has the honor. "Ah! que ou!" "Viole!"—the air, grace, shrug, smell of Paris! France gave his step its trip, his tongue its His head its peruke, and his waist its stay. The thing is contraband. Let's crush the trade! Ladies, insist on't—all is best home-made—All British, from your shoe-eye to your fan, Down to that tantalizing wretch call'd man! Now for that compound creature—first the wig, With every frizzle struggling to look big, On the roug'd cheek the fresh-dy'd whisker spread, The thousandth way of dressing a calf's head! The neckcloth next, where starch & whalebone vie To make the slave a walking pillory! The bolster'd bosom—Ah ye envying fair, How little dream you of the stuff that's there! What straps, ropes, steel, the aching ribs compress, To make the Dandy "beautifully less." Thus fools their final stake of follyless cast By instant, to await waistcoats come at last. Misjudging Shakspeare! this escap'd thine eye, For though the brains are out, the thing won't die! And now, farewell!—But one word for the bard, The smile of beauty is his best reward; Then smile upon him, you, and you, and you! I see the poet's cause is won.—Adieu.

THE TIME has been that when the brains were put the map would die.

WART ARMSFORD.

A plain, neat, white monument, has been erected in the church yard of Sutton Coldfield, Warwickshire, (Eng.) by the Rev. Luke Booker, to the memory of the unfortunate Mary Ashford, over whose tragical death has been dropped many a silent tear. The following is the inscription upon the stone:

"As a warning to female virtue, and a humble monument to female chastity, this stone marks the grave of Mary Ashford, who, in the 20th year of her age, having incautiously repaired to a scene of amusement, without proper protection, was brutally violated and murdered on the 27th of May, 1817."

Lovely and chaste as is the primrose pale, Riddled of virgin sweets by the gale, Mary, the wretch who thee remorseless slew, Avenging wrath, which sleeps not, will pursue; For though the dead of blood be veiled in night, Will not the Judge of all the earth do right? Fair, blighted flow'r, the muse that weeps thy doom, Rears o'er thy murder'd form—this warning tomb!

Sutton Coldfield, Nov. 3, 1818.

The wretch who is supposed, upon the strongest circumstantial testimony, to have committed this brutal and inhuman murder, is stated to have arrived in this country. It may not be generally known to our readers, that a beautiful and affecting Melo-Drama, founded upon the circumstances attending the death of this unfortunate creature, has been published and played in England.

[Charleston Times.]

Met, as we have before mentioned, on Monday last, and on Tuesday the 2d inst. the business of the term commenced. The opinion of the court was pronounced in the case of Dartmouth College against Woodward, which was argued at the last term. The judgment of the State Court in this cause, (involving the construction of that article of the constitution which prohibits the State Legislatures from making any law impairing the obligation of contracts,) was reversed.

Wednesday, February 3.

The opinion of the court was delivered in the case of the Baptist Association against Hart's executors, for the defendants. This cause was also argued at the last term. Several causes were argued. Mr. Winder commenced his argument for the captors in the case of the Divina Pastora, a ship and cargo captured by a cruiser sailing under the Buenos Ayres flag, but alleged to have been fitted out in the ports of the United States.

Thursday, Feb. 4.

Mr. Webster and Mr. Ogden addressed the court on the part of the Spanish owner in the case of the Divina Pastora, and Mr. Winder closed the argument, in reply.

Mr. Wirt, (Attorney General,) and Mr. Jones, argued the case of the United States against Howland and Allen.

Friday, Feb. 5.

The court ordered the case of the Divina Pastora, argued yesterday, to be remanded to the circuit court, with directions to permit an amendment of the libel, the pleadings being too defective to enable the court to pronounce a decision on the legal merits of the case.

Mr. Wirt, (Attorney General,) concluded, in reply, the argument in the case of the United States against Howland and Allen.

Several other minor cases were heard.

[National Intelligencer.]

Extract to the Editors of the Baltimore American, dated Annapolis, Feb. 5, 1819.

"After two or three days debate of a very desultory kind, on the subject of the Eleutherian Mysteries, alias bank question, the bill compelling the banks to pay specie, finally passed. It would be well if this law could have had the effect of filling the coffers of the banks with specie. The bill is but lame in its provisions, in consequence of a clause tacked to the end of it.

Its provisions are as follows:

1. Banks may be sued before a justice of the peace for all sums under 50 dollars. The proceedings the same as appointed in the act for the recovery of small debts.
2. Those banks refusing to pay their debts are to pay six per cent interest from the time of the demand.
3. That on application made to the county courts, supported by affidavit, a scire facias to issue to shew cause why the charter should not be forfeited by the court.
4. The court, in its discretion, to appoint commissioners to settle and close the concerns of the bank. The court to determine the manner of proceeding by the commissioners, taking care of the interests of the creditors, stockholders, etc.

These are among the principal features of the bill, which is to take effect next January—except in cases of banks which have ceased to pay their notes since last October.

It is very doubtful what effect this law will produce. The bank evil has been sorely felt; legislation may perhaps contribute something to the cure which is already going on, perhaps not fast enough, but certainly not slowly. I am almost inclined to think that the best way is to leave them to find their level on the great stream of commerce—their must sink or swim, in virtue of their own intrinsic character. We are every day unlearning something of our present notions of banking."

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Lexington, (Ky.) Jan. 18.

The suits which were instituted by this commonwealth against the directors and officers of the United States Branch Bank in Lexington, respectively, for the recovery of the fines and penalties incurred by the refusal of the branch to pay the state tax, came for trial before the general court, sitting at Frankfort, on Friday last. The one against the Porter of the Office was selected for trial. After a hearing of three days, the case was decided in his favor.

The counsel for the office of the United States Bank demurred to the declaration on two grounds; first, deficiency of the declaration, and mainly the unconstitutionality of the state law. The court sustained the demurrer, and gave an opinion that a state has no right to impose a penalty on a person acting under a law of the United States.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court of the commonwealth, which is to sit in April next; little doubt is entertained of a confirmation of the present decision.

Attorney Gen. Blair and B. Hardin appeared as prosecuting counsel; W. T. Barry, M. D. Hardin and Robt. Wickliffe, as counsel for the defendants.

MEXICAN FRONTIER.

Alexandria, Louisiana, Jan. 2.

Three companies of regular troops arrived at this place on Tuesday last, from Baton Rouge, on their march to the Sabine. They are under the command of captain Christian. It is stated that more troops are coming on from Baton Rouge, for the same destination. It is probable that government is making arrangements to drive the Spaniards beyond our limits, and to station an efficient force on our frontiers. A measure anxiously looked for by the people of this section of the Union.

BUREAU AYRES.

A friend in this city who is in possession of late dates from Buenos Ayres informs us, his letters state that Mr. Hasley, U. S. Consul at that port, had suddenly taken his departure from thence for Chili, leaving his official papers behind him without being put into the charge of any one; in consequence of which, the supreme director, fr motives of friendship to the interests of the United States, had ordered them to be procured and lodged for safe keeping under the superintendence of an officer of the republic. In the absence of Mr. Worthington, who is also said to have gone to Chili, this was thought to be the only step whereby documents valuable to the United States, could have been preserved. An unauthorized person, in the meantime, is said to have taken the advantage of Mr. Hasley's absence, and attempted to exercise some of the consular functions.

LATEST FROM THE HAVANA.

By the arrival yesterday of the schooner Calypso, Hillard, in 8 days from the Havana, we have received our regular file of the "Diario" down to the 22d inst. The following is an extract of a letter from our correspondent, which accompanied them:

"Havana, 22d January, 1819.

"I wrote you per schooner Favorite, under date of 13th inst. with a file of our daily papers. The Calypso being about sailing, I forward you a continuation of the "Diario" up to this date inclusive.

"The troops for Pensacola sailed yesterday morning, under convoy of the Corvette ships of war Diana and Ceres—in the latter went Sr. Don Juan Maria Echeverri, commander in chief, and Don Manuel Calabaz, Teniente Coronel. The vessels, four in number, which conveyed the troops, were Spanish, except one, the American schooner Saturno. The soldiers were all in high glee—400 whites and 200 —. You may depend upon it: they will fight.

TRIAL FOR MURDER.

The trial of the two brothers, Michael and Martin Toohey, charged with the murder of the late James W. Gadsden, Esq. was taken in the court of sessions for this District on Tuesday last, before his honor Judge Nott, presiding. The testimony in the case was voluminous and occupied the unremitting attention of the court for more than two days. We do not recollect any instance in which the public feeling was more interested, nor have we ever witnessed at our bar a more flattering exhibition of eloquence. The prosecution on the part of the state, was conducted by Robert Y. Hayne, Esq. the Attorney General, and the defence was sustained by Messrs. Hunt, Crafts, and Lance. On Saturday afternoon last, the case after having been fully heard and argued, was summed up by Judge Nott, with his usual ability and impartiality, and given to the jury, who, after a deliberation of nearly three hours, returned with a verdict of MURDER against Martin, and MANSLOUVERANCE against Michael Toohey. We have understood that the counsel for the prisoners intend submitting a motion for an arrest of judgement and a new trial.

LOSS OF THE SCHOONER FAIR AMERICAN.

In Monday's Beacon we gave a short notice, from report, of the loss of the schooner Fair American, (of Fredericksburg,) capt. George, on her voyage from that place to New-York, with a cargo of wheat and flour. We have since been favored by the Master and part owner, with a confirmation of the correctness of our statement, and the following additional particulars of their misfortune. While our sympathy is strongly enlisted for the suffering of the crew, our indignation is as warmly aroused, that there should be found in our country, men claiming the soil as their birth-right, so destitute of all feeling and principle as not only to withhold the common offices of humanity from the shipwrecked mariner, but to rifle him even of the scanty clothing which, through the bounty of Providence, had been saved from the wreck of his ill.

"On the 20th of January, (instant,) 20 minutes before 8 P. M. we had the misfortune to run ashore on Abasco Bay, on the Jersey side of the Delaware Bay, and after making every exertion to get off, but without success, we turned our attention to the means of preserving our lives.—At 12 o'clock at night the vessel bilged and filled, when we (7 in number, including Mr. James V. Fraser, a passenger,) secured ourselves on the quarter-deck suffering all the horrors of an awful ship-wreck. At about 2 in the morning, the schooner severed at the break of the quarter deck, when little remained to us but the assurance of a watery grave. The quarter deck, however, holding together, a ray of hope dawned from the reflection that this our last resting place, might remain entire until the return of day, when some friendly sail might snatch us from impending destruction. About the dawn of day, our sufferings were for a moment mitigated by the sight of a sail, with an old shirt attached to an oar, we made a signal to attract their attention; but from the heaviness of the weather and increasing thickness of the fog, they soon disappeared to our view, perhaps without having observed our signal of distress. At this moment, hope seemed to abandon us forever, but in a short time the fog began to dissipate, the land became visible, and discovered to us the welcome sight of some vessels, which had made a harbor, about two miles distant—we also saw some persons walking on the beach, but soon discovered that they were much more intent on saving the ruins of our vessel and cargo for their own benefit, than on procuring the means of rescuing us from our perilous situation.—Some of the crews of the vessels in the harbor, seeing our deplorable condition, came with great difficulty to our relief, and conveyed us to their vessels, where we were received with the greatest kindness, and treated in a manner which merits our eternal gratitude.

"Having lost every thing except what we had on our backs, the benevolence of these strangers it may be supposed was a cordial to our bosoms. But while we acknowledge with hearts overflowing with thankfulness, the good offices of these our seafaring brethren, we want language sufficiently strong to depict the base and inhuman conduct of some of the inhabitants of Abasco and the adjacent country, who, although apprised of our misfortunes and destitute situation, refused even to deliver up our clothing which they had picked up on the beach, after it had drifted ashore, and treated us in other respects so much like savages, that we had just reason to believe, that but for the humanity and generosity of the masters and crews of the vessels in the harbor, we should have been abandoned to all the horrors of shipwreck, on a coast where the claims of humanity were stifled by the sordid and unmanly consideration of self aggrandizement.

E. L. B. TAPSCOTT, one third owner.
BENJAMIN GEORGE, Master.
JAMES V. FRASER, passenger.
And the CREW of the Fair American.

A Bermuda paper of December 26, states, that "Captain Trott, of the schr. Delight, arrived at St. Georges' from Kingston, (Jamaica,) reports that on the 3d instant, when passing through the Islands, he was boarded by a boat from a small privateer schr. out of New-York, but under the colors of Artigas, having a Spanish brig as a prize in company, which she had captured when bound from Malaga to the Havana, with a cargo supposed to be worth 50,000 dollars. On the 18th in the lat. of Bermuda, captain Trott fell in with the schr. Hiram, of N. York, having no person on board of her, and kept possession 24 hours; she had a cargo of salt. On the evening of the same day, he fell in with a brig, water logged, having her mainmast and stump of foremast standing.

The same paper informs, that the brigantine Admiral Durham, from Demarara, bound to St. Georges', with a cargo of rum and molasses, was stranded on the breakers off the south side of Bermuda, on the night of the 23d Dec. and totally lost, being stove into a thousand pieces. The master and crew (with the exception of one poor fellow drowned) were saved, and a few punchbous of rum, and some materials belonging to the vessel were picked up—the remainder of the vessel and cargo entirely lost.

MAIL ROSSER.

Police Office, city of New-York, February 5th, 1819.

The following is an accurate description of the third Mail Robber not yet taken, known by the name of DEREZEAU at the house he boarded, No. 11, Van Vorst street, in this city, and near other, unless the application, in common, of Doctor:—Between 26 and 30 years of age—5 feet 11 inches high, straight and well made—moves quick, erect, and with a military gait—one hand commonly inside the breast of his coat—stout frame, but not fleshy—face rather oval—French complexion—light brown hair which behind, touches the cape of his coat, and turned up from the forehead in front—light blue eyes—good teeth—round chin—thin nose, the end of which is red—light brown whiskers of a circular shape—speaks broken English—talks very quick—speaks French and Spanish—wore an old blue coat waistcoat and pantaloons also blue—a pair of boots, tops cut off to appear like Wellington boots—old French shaped round hat, rim rather flat—dirty linen, and black silk neck handkerchief.

The editors of newspapers throughout the United States will please publish the above a few times, and be careful that it shall be copied accurately.

It is obvious that DEREZEAU will in all probability change his clothing.

By order of the police magistrates.
R. STEPHENS, Assistant Clerk.

We have been politely favored (says the Baltimore Patriot) with the following extract of a letter to a respectable mercantile house in this city, dated

"Manilla, July 30, 1818.

I beg leave to acquaint my friends and the public in general of the United States of America, for their information, that I had the honor of being appointed by our government, American Consul at Manilla, the capital of the Philippine Islands, since March, 1817; and in consequence of which, I have established myself as a Commission Merchant, to transact business for all our countrymen, that may honor me to confide their negotiation to me—and I flatter myself from the knowledge and information I have of this country, to be able to give ample satisfaction to all those who may favor me with their business; and as I am the only American established at this place, beg leave to solicit the patronage of my countrymen.

I take the liberty of informing my friends, or any other gentleman wishing to send their ships to this place, to remit an assorted small cargo, for this market will not answer for any large cargo at present; and beg leave to advise, if species is to be sent here on speculation, it is better to send in Gold, Spanish coin in preference to dollars—we call it here Doblon, or Oro de Oro, and it is current at 16 dollars; as these can be obtained in America at a lower rate, there can be saved something per centage.

And also, I have the pleasure to communicate, that there are two or three opulent Spaniards, whose planing to make cultivation of cotton, pepper and coffee, besides of establishing a Sugar House, which makes me confident, if they begin this year by the next, there will be some progress made; and as for sugar, much more will be augmented for exportation.

I have also taken the liberty of inclosing a general price current of the produce of this country, and should also have sent one of the imports—but as this market is overstocked, the prices are very low to determine it at present; but my opinion is, that in the next year the market will be much better, as we shall have some arrivals from Spanish America with money, which at present is very scarce.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your most obedient humble servant,
ANDREW STUART."

We have been politely favored (says the Baltimore Patriot) with the following extract of a letter to a respectable mercantile house in this city, dated

"Manilla, July 30, 1818.

I beg leave to acquaint my friends and the public in general of the United States of America, for their information, that I have the honor of being appointed by our government, American Consul at Manilla, the capital of the Philippine Islands, since March, 1817; and in consequence of which, I have established myself as a Commission Merchant, to transact business for all our countrymen, that may honor me to confide their negotiation to me—and I flatter myself on the knowledge and information I have of this country, to be able to give ample satisfaction to all those who may favor me with their business; and as I am the only American established at this place, beg leave to solicit the patronage of my countrymen.

I take the liberty of informing my friends, or any other gentleman wishing to send their ships to this place, to remit an assorted small cargo, for this market will not answer for any large cargo at present; and beg leave to advise, if species is to be sent here in speculation, it is better to send in Gold, Spanish coin in preference to dollars—we all here Doblon, or Onza de Oro, and it is current at 16 dollars; as these can be obtained in America at a lower rate, there can be saved something per centage.

And also, I have the pleasure to communicate, that there are two or three opulent Spaniards, whose planning to make cultivation of cotton, pepper and coffee, besides establishing a Sugar House, which makes me confident, if they begin this year or the next, there will be some progress made; and as for sugar, much more will be augmented for exportation.

I have also taken the liberty of inclosing a general price current of the produce of this country, and should also have sent one of the imports—but as this market is overstocked, the prices are very low to determine it at present; but my opinion is, that in the next year the market will be much better, as we shall have some arrivals from Spanish America with money, which at present is very scarce.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your most obedient humble servant, ANDREW STUART."

September 28
Gunston for Sale.
THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Potomac creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided into lots. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania. I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity.
A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on three sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole. It would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit.
More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might) have been richly mowed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abounded with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had.
The terms of sale will be accommodating.
Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the River, will be taken in payment. Letters must be addressed to me at Pock Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.
Valuable Property for Sale.
A subscriber is desirous of selling a beautifully situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county, Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thompson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 840 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in this interior of clover and timothy, a part of the residue recently sown with wheat and rye, and clover last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.— The improvements are a commodious and convenient frame dwelling house with a kitchen, under house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, such a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep, waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture, corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons of hay. Also, adjoining the above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a killing and curing house would render comfortable.
The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable accretions, made and formed.—To prevent unnecessary application, he would advise, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLE HER-BERT, esq. or
FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.
